King Edward ruled England 1042 -1066 just before the Norman invasion of England. The story was made into a tapestry, which is kept at Bayeux, in Normandy. The section of the tapestry shown above is of Edward's body being taken to Westminster Abbey, where it has remained ever since. He was known as a good king and ruled for peace and justice. He put his Christian faith into practice.

Did you know... that the font for baptisms is often found by the door of the church to remind us that the way to our heavenly family is through baptism?
